ABOUT NEURO CARE 2026

The International Conference on Neurology and Neuroscience scheduled from March 23-25, 2026 in Singapore and Online, is a premier global platform dedicated to bringing together leading neurologists, neuroscientists, researchers, clinicians, and industry experts to discuss the latest advancements, research breakthroughs, and emerging trends in the field. This interdisciplinary event will feature cutting-edge keynote sessions, interactive panel discussions, hands-on workshops, and high-impact scientific presentations, covering a wide range of topics from fundamental neuroscience to clinical neurology, neurodegenerative disorders, neuroimaging, neuropharmacology, neurosurgery, artificial intelligence in neurology, and more.

Attendees will have the opportunity to gain insights into groundbreaking research, explore innovative technologies, and engage in discussions on future directions in neurological science. The conference will highlight major topics such as clinical neurology and neurophysiology, neurogenetics and precision medicine, neuroimmunology and neuroinflammation, pain management, neurorehabilitation, pediatric neurology, aging and neurodegeneration, and advanced neurodiagnostic techniques. It will also serve as a networking hub for professionals, fostering collaborations and knowledge exchange.

Join us in this transformative journey to advance neurology and neuroscience!
